RG Premium Range Vinyl Warranty

The brand RG by Arjievynyls, as part of our warranty we aim to provide the highest quality product to our customers. We trust that our films, when manufactured, transported, stored and applied correctly, will perform with the function and quality stated in it's product information. In the event the a product fails to meet these specifications, Arjievynyls will issue a full refund through the distributor whom the product was purchased from.

RG is not liable for any damage caused to the process as a result of misuse or incorrect application as directed in the 'RG Vehicle Wrapping Guide'.

Durability In External Environments

The major factor affecting the long-term durability of RG films are the climates that they are exposed to and a contributing factor is the angles at which they are exposed. The tables below state the optimal expected performance of the films based on the angle of exposure and the climate zone, with the warranty we provide listed. All performance figures apply to films that have been applied according to RG recommendations. For a detailed break down of the climate zones and exposure angles, see page 3.
